Vignettes of the Philippine Commonwealth

GREGORIO F. ZAIDE, PH. D.
History Professor, Far Eastern University and Exchange Professor to Hawaii

The Sino-Japanese war is a boon to the Filipino people. If Japan loses, her southward expansion will be checked and her imperialistic dream will for a time be punctured. Even if she wins, she will not be able to get in the Philippines for quite a time due to her heavy losses in men and treasures.

It is a foregone conclusion that the war is sapping Japan's economic vitality. She is on the brink of financial chaos. China may win after all by sheer force of economics. The longer she holds out, the darker is Japan's chance to emerge victorious out of the holocaust.

Unruffled and undisturbed by the war, the Philippine commonwealth is marching on. Many constructive measures have been promulgated by President Quezon and the National Assembly within the last two months, all of which are dedicated to common weal and mass welfare. Our Commonwealth government is indeed following Justinian's juridical maxim: "Salus populi suprema lex".

One of these measures is the election law which provides for municipal and provincial elections next December 14, 1937. According to this law, women can vote and run for office: a registration fee of 20 centavos (10 cents gold to haoles) is charged from all new registrants to be used for public education; and the title of "municipal presidents" is changed to "municipal mayors".

Other bills passed by the National Assembly are Bill No. 2432, appropriating ₱5,000,000 ($2,500,000) for the construction of public school buildings; Bill No. 2426 increasing the penalty for jueting (gambling); Bill No. 2433 establishing the sugar office to regulate our sugar production and exportation according to federal law quota; and Bill No. 2417 repealing the Probation Law on account of the failure of the probation system which Michigan Governor Murphy introduced to the Islands in 1935.

President Quezon stole the thunder of New Deal Roosevelt by a recent proclamation on workers' minimum wage. He fixes, without benefit of legislative sanction, the minimum wage of the Filipino laborer in Manila to ₱1.25 per day and that of the laborer in the provinces to ₱1.00 a day. This is practical "social justice."

A few weeks ago, the same Quezon threatened the sugar barons of the Visayas to give higher wages and shorter labor hours to their workers or he would force them to do so. In the face of this Quezonian humanitarianism, the "Big Five" of the Philippines are quailing with fear. To our Commonwealth President, the welfare of our masses is more important than the dirty profits of rich capitalists.

REP. HARLAN EN ROUTE TO PHILIPPINES

Democratic Congressmen Fears War Will Delay Complete Freedom

En route to Manila on the United States Army transport Grant, Rep. Byron B. Harlan (D.-Ohio) fears granting of complete independence to the Philippines will be delayed because of the Sino-Japanese war.

Rep. Harlan with Mrs. Harlan is on his way to the Philippines to sound out the sentiment of the Filipino people on the question of independence. He suspects many Filipinos do not agree with President Manuel L. Quezon on early termination of the transition period.

Sen. Millard Tydings, co-author of the act which set up the commonwealth government of the Philippines, thinks differently, however.

On his arrival here last week as a member of the Congressional Committee on Hawaiian Statehood, Tydings stated he believed Philippine independence in two or three years was possible.

"The only obstacle to it, he said, would be the inability of the islands to get along economically without American free trade. This question is being studied by a joint committee of Filipino and American experts now meeting in Manila.

MLO MILITARY AIDE RETIRING FROM U. S. ARMY

After being a general officer for 20 years General Douglas MacArthur, military adviser to President Manuel L. Quezon, will retire from active army service December 31.

Secretary of War Harry H. Woodring made the announcement late this week following President Franklin D. Roosevelt's approval of General MacArthur's application for retirement.

In Manila, MacArthur said he felt he should retire to enable promotion of junior officers to be speeded up. He said he had not yet made plans for the future.

It is held likely he will remain in Manila as military adviser to President Quezon. MacArthur believes the Philippines can be adequately defended by the Filipinos against foreign aggression.

VARONA INCOMMUNICADO? DENIES HAVING ISSUED HOSPITAL ORDER

By RICARDO LABEZ

Fifty thousand Filipinos in Hawaii and 15,000,000 in the Philippines seemingly have no right to know what the matter is with the man sent down here by President Manuel L. Quezon to look into their general conditions and needs.

Confined in the Queen's hospital since October 6, Francisco Varona may not be visited by anyone except Maj. Gen. Briant H. Wells, executive secretary-treasurer of the Hawaiian Sugar Planters' association; Donald S. Bowman, HSPA industrial department director; and Miss Rosario Menchaca, his niece.

To the repeated inquiry of concerned Filipinos as to the condition of the personal representative in Hawaii of their national president, attending physicians have had but one answer: "He's pretty comfortable." What he is suffering from they will not reveal. When he will be released they cannot say, nor will they admit having any idea whatsoever.

Varona was suddenly stricken Tuesday as he returned from Kahuku where he had spoken at a meeting of Filipino laborers. He fainted in the lobby of the Young Hotel as he got off the car.

He told the CHRONICLE Wednesday morning his doctor had described his condition as serious thyroid trouble it was, due to overwork, over-talking. He entered the hospital that afternoon.

Informed that doctor's orders forbade his seeing anyone but Wells, Bowman and his niece, two staff members of the CHRONICLE went to the hospital that evening. Varona consented to see them in his room for a few minutes. He denied having instructed anyone as to who may see him.

Varona is not leaving for Manila on the clipper October 15, President Quezon having wired him to remain here until he is well enough to return home.

U. S. Filipinos Organize New Political Body

Dr. D. M. Gancy, Filipino attorney and economist, and Juan Quiiana, also a Filipino attorney, last week announced organization of the "Filipino League for Social Justice" with regional offices in New York, San Francisco, Chicago, Los Angeles, and Honolulu. The announcement was made in Washington, D. C.

The league is reported as primarily a political one, and will work for the continuance of the commonwealth government of the Philippines.

Local Filipino leaders expressed ignorance over the plan to establish a regional office of the league in Honolulu as included in the meager press dispatches.

The league is believed to be the first political party organized by Filipinos outside of the Philippines.

No Plans Yet For Inaugural Day Observance

It will be a quiet Philippine Commonwealth Inaugural day in Honolulu this coming November 15 unless local Filipino leaders show more activity and interest in the idea of a community celebration of the anniversary of the birth of the commonwealth.

As yet, no meeting of the leaders has been called to discuss celebration plans, although a few organizations have indicated they will have their own programs in observance of the occasion.

GOLD KING OF P. I. UNABLE TO MAKE TRIP

Judge Hausserman Fails To Come To Honolulu To Meet V. Villamin

The expected meeting of Judge John W. Hausserman, gold magnate of the Philippines and Vicente Villamin, noted Filipino economist and publicist, in Honolulu this week, failed to materialize because of the gold king's inability to make the trip presumably because of business pressure in Manila.

The PHILIPPINES MAIL of Salinas, California, late last month reported Villamin was coming to Honolulu to meet Judge Haussermann. Villamin's present "most absorbing interest" is said to be "gold economics".

Villamin arrived Wednesday on the s. s. Malolo from San Francisco where he held important conferences. He was invited to the University of California in Berkeley and to Leland Stanford university in Palo Alto. He stayed a few days in Sonoma Inn, a dude ranch near the world famous Tamalpais and owned by Jack London, the author.

Previously, Villamin attended a five-day American Mining convention in Salt Lake city, Utah, and visited the world famous Boulder Dam in Colorado. In Los Angeles he was guest at the Mayflower hotel owned by Maj. William H. Anderson, who is well-known in the Philippines as a businessman.

Manuel M. Insigne, Filipino newspaperman and a close friend of the economist, gave the only possible hint at the reason for the proposed Haussermann-Villamin huddle in Honolulu.

Said Insigne:

"I only know that Mr. Villamin's first interest in life is to be able to work in his own way for the benefit of the Philippine's economic well-being. Give him solid assurance that

TRIBUTE PAID T. G. S. WALKER

Tribute to T. G. S. Walker, kindly manager of the Kahuku Plantation company and believed to be one of the most liberal and progressive plantation executives in the islands, is contained in a resolution submitted this week by the "Filipino community" of the plantation to Francisco Varona, personal envoy of President Manuel L. Quezon.

The resolution is signed by Filipino leaders of the plantation headed by Candido del Rosario, including Isabelo Giron, Atanacio Acantilado, Emilio Versola, Melton Espiritu, John P. Caponas, Pedro Miguel, Vitaliano Anguay, Candido Alfiche, Leonard Premacio, and Antonio Canque.

Appointment of Varona by President Quezon as his personal representative to investigate Filipino conditions in Hawaii is described as "an appointment of the right man in the right place, a fact favored by both the officials of the HSPA plantations and Filipino laborers".

The resolution mentions the "sympathetic attitude" of Manager Walker toward the Filipinos "whose interests and welfare are close to his heart". "He treats his workingmen fairly and justly so with the rest of his tankin subordinates following his example of rectitude and leadership".

Part of the resolution addressed to Varona reads as follows:

"Whereas, we are grateful that the interest of His Excellency President Manuel L. Quezon of the Philippine Commonwealth in the welfare of Filipino laborers in Hawaii has

LAUNCH ANTI COMMUNIST DRIVE IN P. I.

Word of good progress with the anti-communism campaign recently launched in the Philippines by Filipino Catholics reached Honolulu this week.

The movement to suppress communistic tendencies in the islands was started by Colayco, manager of "The Commonweal", organ of the Catholic church in the Philippines.

Cooperating with "The Commonweal" in the drive are two potent Catholic organizations, the Social Justice Crusade led by Teodoro Evangelista, the well-known young Filipino orator, and the Knights of Columbus, headed by Fabian Miller.

BODY MAY BE AFL MEMBER LEADER SAYS

At Least 10,000 Members Expected In Organization

New York, N. Y.—All Filipino workers in the United States were invited to join a new union and protective association, it was announced by Emilio A. Alba, Jr., at a preliminary organizational meeting held at 426 West Twenty-seventh street, September 23.

Mr. Alba, who has devoted most of his attention in recent months to an endeavor to enhance the opportunity of his people in the maritime field, said he believed the association would eventually have 10,000 members representing seamen, hotel workers, postal employes and railroad personnel. On the Atlantic and Gulf alone there are about 3000 seamen, including maritime workers in all sea branches, he said.

"Our greatest problem right now is to convince steamship companies and some government officials that have misinterpreted the seamen's statutes and the Philippine independence act," Mr. Alba said. This misconception of the real intent is working a severe hardship on our men, many of whom have been at sea for some years.

"But now some of the companies are letting Filipinos out in the belief that they are classed as aliens. Thus Filipino seamen are finding opportunities curtailed in subsidized vessels because of the law restricting the number of aliens employable on these ships."

Mr. Alba said there was a disposition on the part of ship operators to consider Filipinos suited exclusively to kitchen and dining room work and he pointed out that his people were natural seamen and were equipped to hold jobs as engineroom workers and deck men.

At the meeting he made a plea for all Filipino workers to forget factional and tribal differences and band together for mutual protection. He said he did not like to consider the new organization as strictly a union but a so-

GIVE FILIPINOS CITIZENSHIP RIGHTS TO OFFSET JAPANESE PROBLEM, STATEHOOD BODY ADVISED

How would Hawaiian statehood affect the Filipinos in Hawaii? Would they, as residents of Hawaii, automatically become American citizens? Would they be privileged to elect American citizenship?

Answers to the foregoing questions Ricardo Labez, a writer for the CHRONICLE and one-time plantation social welfare worker, expects to get from the Congressional Committee on Statehood who are taking local testimonies pro and con.

Labez today prepared to mail a letter to the committee in which he contends that the "case of the Filipinos in Hawaii requires special study and consideration".

Filipinos 'Ray of Hope'

According to Labez, the "Filipinos are the ray of hope for those who fear the Japanism of Japanese-American citizens". It is "one sure way of meeting of offsetting the so-called 'Japanese problem'" to grant full political rights to those Filipinos who choose to become American citizens.

"I believe I am speaking the mind of hundreds of other Filipino youths in these islands who are American in education and upbringing, language, ideals and devotion. American in every way, who know no other country, but whose misfortune is that of having been brought to the territory when they were just babies," declares Labez, adding:

"There are approximately 53,000 Filipinos in these islands, and it is safe to believe that there will always be no fewer than 40,000 of them. They constitute today the third largest racial group or about 17 per cent of the total population. By idealism, temperament, culture, background, and bonds of gratitude and friendship, they are closer to America than any other Oriental racial entity here.

"Were there to be a war tomorrow between Japan and the United States and the Filipinos were allowed to choose sides, 53,000 Filipinos in Hawaii would volunteer to fight for America. Thousands of them died on the field of battle for the Stars and Stripes during the Great War. Thousands of them today are paying taxes and fulfilling their obligations to the territory and contributing in a vital way to the prosperity and progress of Hawaii.

"Having shouldered well their responsibilities to the community and to the government, might they not be given the voting franchise and the right to labor on government works and perhaps hold public office?

"Even as a territory, Hawaii faces the problem of rapidly increasing Japanese political power. It is, indeed, a sad paradox, a great shame that the Filipinos who are infinitely, naturally more loyal to America and her democratic institutions are denied the rights and privileges that others of questionable and divided loyalty have.

"I am for statehood, if statehood will give citizenship rights to those Filipinos in Hawaii who are qualified outside of the race requirement. I am against statehood and I believe 53,000 other Filipinos are, if the Filipinos will continue to be denied the right to vote and work on government projects.

"In that case, better commission form of government or military rule under which the Filipinos would stand a fighting chance of getting equal rights and privileges."

Labez told the CHRONICLE he did not expect "statehood improbability" to be altered by his statement, saying his purpose in writing the letter was to present the matter of Filipinos born in the Philippines but raised here who are American in every way but who are ineligible for naturalization for no other reason than that they are Filipinos."

He believes Congress may enact special legislation to cover the special case of such Filipinos who wish to have full American citizenship rights.

VICENTE VILLAMIN, WORLD NOTED ECONOMIST, IS VACATIONING HERE

By RICARDO LABEZ
PCC Correspondent

Found in Honolulu a publicist who doesn't want to get into print—not for the present, anyway. Apparently to oblige him, not a single line has been written about him in any of the local papers.

The man is no other than the internationally recognized Filipino economist, Vicente Villamin, who arrived here minus the blare of trumpets, Wednesday on the s. s. Malolo from San Francisco. He is a guest at the Seaside-Moana hotel.

Reason for the press shyness is that he is here for a well earned, much-needed rest. For the past several months he has been anything attending conferences of one sort and another all over the country and in Europe.

A world noted authority on economics, Villamin receives invitations to all parts of the globe. Few Filipinos if any are more widely travelled than he.

Interviewed at the hotel, Villamin was cordial, courteous and convincing in his request that as little as possible be written about him. He positively had no statement to make to the press and that went also for the Filipino press.

Villamin hinted he was leaving comment on the political aspect of the Philippine situation to the politicians and as for the economic phase he will come out with his say at the proper time when it will do the most good.

For about a whole hour Villamin expressed himself freely on all matters of current interest "off the record" for the personal information and satisfaction of the writer who got the impression Villamin's Philippine public life has yet to commence but which is something certain.

It will be recalled that then Senator Harry B. Hawes in 1933 held Villamin as the most qualified to be the first Filipino governor-general of the Philippines.

DADO MEETS J. ROSENBERG FRIDAY NIGHT

Cunning Nene To Fight Adolph Samuels in Semi-Final Bout

Matchmaker Mark K. Choo promises local boxing fans a great fight program at the Civic auditorium this Friday night when Little Dado takes on Joey Rosenberg in the final bout and Cunning Nene meets Adolph Samuels, the hard-hitting bantamweight champion of the islands.

Rosenberg is the boy who tko'd Little Reynes last week. That he finished the Filipino in the manner he did is not impressive in view of the fact Reynes was pitifully out of condition. Reynes is just about at the end of his fistic trail.

Dado is heading for the top under the careful care of Manager Ralph Cuyugan. We will be surprised indeed if he comes out on the short end of the battle Friday night. Dado will proceed to the coast soon after he disposes of his foe.

Nene, another big favorite of local Filipino fans, is expected to take the measure of Samuels hard-hitting bantamweight champion of the islands. Samuels will have to be twice as good as he was against Kid Waianae to defeat the cunning brown boy.

RESOLUTION

been shown in your appointment as his personal envoy to investigate Filipino labor unrest in this Territory, particularly the Maui strike;

"Whereas, your appointment is an appointment of the right man in the right place a fact both favored by officials of the HSPA Plantations and Filipino laborers;

"Whereas, at this stage of a worldwide labor crisis and unemployment period, we, who grow cane and turn it into sugar and know much of legislation of sugar limitation quotas, expert taxes, the ups and downs of sugar market prices, etc., but the preservation of our employment in the plantations through mutual aid, cooperation and understanding means as much to us as it does to the biggest paid executive seated in a swival chair in Manila, and what are Plantations but our Bank;

"Therefore, be it resolved that we rejoice that our Philippine Commonwealth has seen fit in your appointment to look for the Filipino laborers' welfare solve their labor, social and economic problems so that any untoward act may be averted in the future and the name FILIPINO will be mentioned with respect in the cosmopolitan population of Hawaii;

"Whereas, knowing that in certain places in the Territory of Hawaii there are elements ("Haoles" and what nots) who posed themselves as labor leaders with followers composed chiefly of disgruntled unemployed individuals that in their smooth-tongue eloquence, in order that their desire to gain an unjustified popularity, make use of every possible means to lead plantation Filipinos into their association "Mosquito Colony" in which in most cases their victims are bound to lose and their instigators to win; consequences of such an act means lawlessness, starvation, hunger, misery of their family and children and to the self-seeking agitators along the path of discontent and jail; this fact has characterized the Maui strike;

"Resolved, that the activities of these labor agitators only tend to befog the minds of the rest of our less informed countrymen, using them as a tool for their personal gain and aggrandizement;

"And be it further resolved that on this occasion, the Filipino Community, as a whole, pledge anew our devotion to you personally; our loyalty to our President Manuel L. Quezon; and the increasing desire that we have to make Kahuku Plantation our second Home."

pines, if legislastion were enacted to give the insular executive post to a Filipino.

Villamin had his own observations of the Filipino situation in Hawaii and indicated he has been following it up rather closely and he expects to keep informed of developments.

Filipino press reports from the Pacific coast had it that the Filipino economist was coming to Honolulu to meet Judge Hausserman, the gold king of the Philippines. Villamin explained he had hoped to meet the gold magnate here but learned later that Hausserman could not come. He came on his planned vacation anyway.

Villamin is returning to the mainland via Vancouver in a week or two. He has his headquarters in New York City.

Villamin has travelled extensively. He has attended sessions of the League of Nations, lectured in famous European universities, watched the growth of the Spanish revolution, attended economic conferences in London, observed Japan's penetration in Manchuria, and Italy's conquest of Ethiopia. ANAK TI KARI

Iti uneg ti maysa a minuyongan, adda idi ni Margarita a nakadumog. Agsangsangit . . . .

Adda met idi ti agay-aywan iti daydi a minuyongan nga agin-inana iti maysa a suli. Kalepleppasna a nangpukan iti maysa a kayo.

"Awan to met ngamin ti bungam . . . sika met laengen ti saan nga agbunga," kinunan Juanito. Agkabannuag, nataraki ken natured a lalaki. Adu dagiti kitakitaenna a mulmula nga agsabong nadumaduma.

"Napintas kay amin a buybuyaen, ngem awan ti kas ti ilang-ilang. Saan a nasayaksak unay a buybuyaen, ngem nabanglo ket ayamuom na ti aglubluboanan. Iti minnuyongan adu a sabsabong, ngem maymaysa laeng ti kasasayaatan," kas na idi itamtanimmitim.

Nangegan ni Margarita . . . . Aglalo di anog-ogna. Wen, ta iso nanaganan iti Margarita gapo iti kinapintasna . . . Ngem, ania a kinapintas, dayta!

Nangeg ni Juanito daydi ananug-og.

Immasideg ket nailangaanna . . . . . .

"Margarita! . . . . "

"Aniat' kaaddam ditoy? Saanka aya a mabuteng ditoy away? . . . " nagsaludsod ni Juanito.

"Awan kabuteng ni ayat . . . " insawang ni Margarita, ket nagsiddaaw ni Juanito iti daydi a panagsaona.

"Ania ti makuam? Ania ti kayatmo a sawen?" nagsaludsod laeng.

Saan a nakatimek ni Margarita, ngem nagdumog ket pinunasna dagiti luluana. Kadagiti baet ti kurimatmatna kasla agsinamar iti baro a lawag nga aggapo kadagiti matana.

"Juanito, dakkel ti basol ko kenka . . . . kayatko a pakawannak," insawang ni Margarita.

Nagpinnerrengda.

Adu dagiti panpanunota nagsagibo, rimmusing iti daydi apagdarikmat a kanito. Kas binasa ni Juanito ti pito a tawen a kallabes iti pagbasaan ti pakasarsaritaan kabibiagda.

Pito a tawen ti naglabasen kasakbayan inda panagsarak. Pito a tawen a panagsagaba ni Margarita ngem pito met a tawen a panagpadpadas ni Juanito.

"Ania aya ti nakabasolam kaniak?" nagsaludsod laeng ni Juanito.

"Ammoem nga idi agtawenak pay laeng ti 16, agtawen ka met idi ti 18, nagkinnaritá . . . . Naimbag ka unay idi kaniak, ngem iti saan a nabayag naukasan, ken naumag dagidi a panaglainlallota . . . Pinanawanka ket kasta met kaniak." Nagsangit manen, ngem itan napalpalalon ti anu-ogna.

Malagip ni Juanito amin a karkarina. Ngem apay ketdi a saanna a mapanunot no ania ti nakabasolan a pudpudno ni Margarita kenkuana.

"Ania aya ti basol mo kaniak a sinangsangitam, ta awan met ti ammok a nakabasolam kaniak. Saanta aya a nagnumoan nga aglinnipatta? Ket linipatanka, intabonka iti kabayatan ti pannawen kadagiti barbaro a padpadasko?

Kasla nalal-lalo manen kinadagsen ti barukongna. Ta saanna ngamin aya a nasiputan, nakita amin nga inar-aramid ni Juanito? Saan aya a nagdakdakes ni Juanito, nangdadael kadagiti dadduma a babbai?

Nagsao ni Margarita ket kinunana:

"Juanito, no kayatmo nga ammoen ti basol ko, rebbengna unay. Siak ti nakaigapo iti panagsina ta. Gapo iti nalaus nga imon ko, ta kayatka idi a kukua ka latta, saanka a kinayat a nangiwaras kadagiti matam. Sika ti maysa a bunga a naimas kadagitoy matak, saanko a kayaten nga adda pay sabali a mangala kenka. Binaybay-an ka agsipod ta dakkel ken adda kaniak idi ti madi nga atap. Apaman a nagsinata . . . kasla aleng-aleng aminen ti panangyarigmo iti ayat . . . nakitak dagiti babbai a dinadaelmo . . . "

Kasla inadaw ni Juanito ti sarsaritana iti Biblia. Ngem, dakes unay daydi a pangariganna; nagsidduker ti uneg ni Margarita, ket kayatenna a salakniban iti kinababaina.

"Juanito, siak idi ti nagbasol kenka, ngem sika itan ti nagbasol kaniak. Masapol nga agbabawika, ken agpakawan ka. Pito a tawen a nagsagabaak gapo kenka . . . Sinapsapolko ti pamuspusan tapno makita ka. Liniklikannak a patinayon, ngem binirbirokka latta . . . . Ngem awan biroken a dinto a masapolan; awan dawaten a dinto a maited; ket awan met ridaw a tuktokan a dinto a maluktan . . . Ta pusom pimmulinawenen! Masapol a madalusan.

Kasla nasalsalpot ti tultulang ken laslasag ni Juanito. "Anian a nagkaro ti panagsaritam kaniak, Margarita? Awan saman la ti asim?" kinunana.

"Nagasat dagiti nadalos panagpuspusoda ta isudanto ti makakita iti Dios," dayta ti naisuro kaniak idi ubingak ket adda pay laeng kaniak." Kasla adda ni Juanito idi iti sangwanan ti nailangitan a parsua.

Wen, ta ni Margarita napintas ti langa ken natarnaw met ti kararuana. Naggapo ken nagadal iti kina-dekonesa. Naruam nga agbuteng iti Dios.

In order to make the Filipinos in Hawaii conscious of local, national, and international affairs today and how they stand among the peoples of the world, we are endeavoring through the medium of the press to have the Filipino citizens and nationals of this territory be guided by intelligent public opinion.

We desire all our countrymen to be enlightened and to be cognizant of the fact that without unity there is no strength. We are not attempting to organize a group of people for selfish aggrandisement but to make them part of the educated public which make up a truly civilized nation.

Let us make the PHILIPPINE COMMONWEALTH CHRONICLE our national organ in Hawaii.

OUR PLAN:

To have honest men and women to represent us in getting subscriptions for this paper. To pay our agents 25% commission and 10% bonus for every 50 paid-up subscriptions turned in per month.

To offer a hundred-dollar extra bonus to the highest-producer of each island, provided however, that there shall be at least 1,000 yearly paid-up subscriptions from each island. $2.50 a year.

To give a free round-trip ticket to the Philippines to the highest producer in the territory provided 5,000 yearly paid-up subscriptions shall have been turned in.

To allow each of the district managers (Oahu, Kauai, Maui, Lanai, Molokai, and Hawaii) 5% commission from cash turned in from own districts.

This campaign is to extend to February 15, 1938.
